

Nasal continuous positive airway pressure for sleep-disordered breathing after stroke

Otto-Yáñez M.

Torres-Castro R.

Sarmiento A.

Rivera Lillo G.B.

Resqueti V.R.

Fregonezi G.A.F.

This is a protocol for a Cochrane Review (Intervention). The objectives are as follows: To determine the effectiveness and safety of nasal continuous positive airway pressure (nCPAP) use for sleep-disordered breathing after stroke. © 2018 The Cochrane Collaboration.