

Basques and their foreign politics strategies to impulse their independence claims [Los vascos y sus estrategias de política exterior para potenciar su demanda de independencia]

Rojas Sánchez C.

In a globalization context, the non-central territorial entities, which pursue their own foreign action politics, are noteworthy. One of these entities is the Euskal Herria, space in which the basque culture is manifested in its entire dimension. This text tries to answer the question about which foreign politics strategies have used the basque separatists groups to encourage their independence claims from Spain and France and if they have used the globalization in their favor or not.

Economic development

Euskal Herria

Foreign politics

Globalization

Independence

Regionalization

Transboundary cooperation

economic development

globalization

independence

political economy

regionalization

transboundary cooperation

Basque Country [Spain]

France

Spain

Sus